Making investing more accessible

In 1982, Jean-Pierre Ferland and Roger Charland established Canada's first discount brokerage firm in Montreal. They called it Les Investissements Disnat Inc.

Even though the name was changed to Desjardins Online Brokerage years later, the firm has honoured its origins by giving the names Disnat Classic and Disnat Direct to its trading platforms.

Desjardins Online Brokerage offers investors the tools they need to trade securities and keep up with market developments on their own. By offering reduced fees, user-friendly platforms, research and analysis tools as well as educational resources that help investors make informed decisions, it has made the investment world more accessible.

From the very beginning, Desjardins Online Brokerage has kept pace with the times and set its eyes on the future: from making investing more accessible to embracing technological changes, as well as promoting financial literacy, which has always been central to its mission.

Why choose Desjardins Online Brokerage?

We give our members and clients the flexibility to make and manage their investments online by using our cutting-edge platforms.

By using our online brokerage services, you get to choose when, where and how you invest. You can place orders within only a few seconds. You are the one in charge, and you determine your investment strategy.
